she could go and imagining other little blue houses on other shores with other children gazing back What child doesn't love walking in the surf feeling the water steal the sand from beneath her toes as a wave retreats Who doesn't love the salty smell of the air and the sight of ships far out on the horizon What happens in the oceans is critically important to life on Earth That's why the girl in her little blue house wants to believe that the children gazing back from far over the horizon love the oceans as she does and wants to keep them safe alive and beautiful

Celerie Kemble,2021-04-13 A house by the sea should be a house of dreams Where windows and doors are thrown open to the ocean and gusts of cool salty air turn us all into kids again buoyant and joyful Spending childhood days on the beach and in the magical romantic chaos of her family's rambling house internationally renowned interior designer Celerie Kemble has a deep rooted connection to the sun and surf However in the summer of 2004 Kemble laid eyes on a wild swath of jungle in the Dominican Republic next to minty blue water and an endless stretch of golden sand she fell madly in love Over many years she designed a home away from home there an island retreat a clubhouse and a grouping of family homes and guesthouses suffused with light and air full of indoor and outdoor rooms for relaxation In her latest book Island Whimsy Kemble recounts the deeply personal and creative journey of designing Playa Grande and bringing this labor of love to life The chapters of this book are organized around the different ways Kemble sought to braid her family's story into the larger landscape of Playa Grande and to provide inspiration joy and respite to all who come Fantasy looks at the way she used whimsical dreamlike elements from the latticework cabanas by the pool to the lamb statues on the property who mow the lawns throughout the property to create a sense of play and possibility Light Salt Air describes how she went about bringing the most precious elements of the beach into the homes themselves creating a feeling of flow and permeability and reminding visitors constantly of where they are In the Jungle looks at the design cues she took from the flora and fauna of the tropical rainforest surrounding Playa Grande to create an alluring tension between chaos and refinement Sweet offering places to wash sandy feet or perfect viewing spots for a sunset saturated drink and infusing spaces with invitation welcome and magic
