Technology for Students who are Blind Or Visually Impaired Ike Presley, Frances Mary D'Andrea, 2008 Assistive technology is essential in today's world to enable people who are blind or visually impaired to participate fully in school work and life. But which assistive technology tools are right for your students? This comprehensive handbook is the essential resource for teachers of students with visual impairments, administrators, technology professionals, and anyone who needs to keep up with the ever-changing world of technology.

Assistive Technology For Students Who Are Blind or Visually Impaired: A Guide to Assessment contains a wealth of technical information translated into clear, user-friendly terms, including:

- An overview of the full range of assistive technology that students can use to manage information in print or electronic formats, whether they use vision, touch, or hearing to access information.
- How to select appropriate tools and strategies.
- A structured process for conducting a technology assessment.
- Detailed assessment forms that can be used to determine students' technology needs and solutions to address them.
- Advice on writing up program recommendations based on assessment results.
- Reproducible blank assessment forms.

Cook & Hussey's Assistive Technologies Albert M. Cook, Janice Miller Polgar, 2008-01-01 It's here: the latest edition of the one text you need to master assistive strategies, make confident clinical decisions, and help improve the quality of life for people with disabilities. Based on the Human Activity Assistive Technology (HAAT) model, Assistive Technologies: Principles and Practice, 4th Edition, provides detailed coverage of the broad range of devices, services, and practices that comprise assistive technology and focuses on the relationship between the human user and the assisted activity within specific contexts. Updated and expanded, this new edition features coverage of new ethical issues, more explicit applications of the HAAT model, and a variety of global issues highlighting technology applications and service delivery in developing countries.

Human Activity Assistive Technology (HAAT) framework demonstrates assistive technology within common everyday contexts for more relevant application. Focus on clinical application guides you in applying concepts to real-world situations. Review questions and chapter summaries in each chapter help you assess your understanding and identify areas where more study is needed. Content on the impact of AT on children and the role of AT in play and education for children with disabilities demonstrates how AT can be used for early intervention and to enhance development. Coverage of changing AT needs throughout the lifespan emphasizes how AT fits into people's lives and contributes to their full participation in society.

Principles and practice of assistive technology provides the foundation for effective decision making. NEW Global issues content broadens the focus of application beyond North America to include technology applications and service delivery in developing countries. NEW Ethical issues and occupational justice content exposes you to vital information as you start interacting with clients. NEW More case studies added throughout the text foster an understanding of how assistive technologies are used and how they function. NEW Updated content reflects current technology and helps keep you current. NEW Explicit applications of the HAAT model in each of the chapters on specific technologies and more emphasis on the interactions among the elements make content even easier to understand.
