Carry Me Home Janet Fox, 2021-08-24 A poignant and powerful reminder that homelessness is not hopelessness Kirby Larson author of Newbery Honor book Hattie Big Sky Two sisters struggle to keep their father's disappearance a secret in this tender middle grade novel that's perfect for fans of Katherine Applegate and Lynda Mullaly Hunt Twelve year old Lulu and her younger sister Serena have a secret As Daddy always says it's best if we keep it to ourselves and so they have But hiding your past is one thing Hiding where you live and that your Daddy has gone missing is harder At first Lulu isn't worried Daddy has gone away once before and he came back But as the days add up with no sign of Daddy Lulu struggles to take care of the responsibilities they used to manage as a family Lulu knows that all it takes is one slip up for their secret to come spilling out for Lulu and Serena to be separated and for the good things that have been happening in school to be lost But family is all around us and Lulu must learn to trust her new friends and community to save those she loves and to finally find her true home

I Will Carry You Angie Smith, 2010-05-01 In 2008 Angie Smith and her husband Todd lead singer of the group Selah learned through ultrasound that their fourth daughter had conditions making her incompatible with life. Advised to terminate the pregnancy the Smiths chose instead to carry this child and allow room for a miracle. That miracle came the day they met Audrey Caroline and got the chance to love her for the precious two and a half hours she lived on earth. Upon receiving the original diagnosis Angie started a blog Bring the Rain to keep family and friends informed of their journey. Soon the site exploded in popularity connecting with thousands who were either experiencing their own heartbreaking situations or simply curious about how God could carry someone through something so tragic. I Will Carry You tells the powerful story of a parent losing her child interwoven with the biblical story of Lazarus to help those who mourn to still have hope to find grace and peace in the sacred dance of grief and joy. Endorsement: This is a beautiful and tender book that would touch any woman's heart no matter her age or realm of experience. It is about a relationship so intimate with God that it carves a safe place for crises of faith for faith proved genuine and for divine callings willed, sealed and fulfilled. Yes, this is one mother's moving story. This one mother also happens to be a true writer. We will hear more from her. Angie, I am so proud of you. May Christ continue to tip the ink jar toward your gifted quill. Beth Moore, Best selling author and speaker.

Shades of Life Linda Faye Beach, 2005-02. All people hold on to life and hope to find the beauty so often hidden from them. They fail to understand that the beauty they seek surrounds them at all times. Beauty is in all of life, not just the happy times, but what one might consider the hard times as well. How wonderful to be entitled to live even for a short time and know such feelings as love, hate, joy, sadness, beauty, sorrow, and all the feelings that make us human. This is poetry. Life is a book of poetry. Each day we wake and start a new page and do not understand that we are all poets. We create what we will be. We see beauty in a half-dead tree or we cut it down. We talk to God on our level and shake when we hear his name. Choose your life, create your own poetry, find love and beauty in all things. Love while you can. Good Words, 1875. Alternative Economies of Heritage Denise Thwaites, Bethaney Turner, Tracy Ireland, 2025-02-25. Alternative Economies of Heritage is a groundbreaking edited volume that critically evaluates how the work of heritage can be reimagined as a multifarious field of thought and action to resist the reductive economies of colonial capitalism. In a global context of cultural financialisation and ecological crisis where sustainable, anti-colonial and creative approaches are required to solve urgent problems, this volume provides readers with an enriched understanding of heritage as a transforming and multidisciplinary domain which continues to question what is valued, discarded or shared with future generations. Bringing together researchers from the academy and industry and from varied international contexts, this volume asks how does heritage as a complex intersection of contemporary practices with their own diverse histories recognise and circulate cultural value between generations and communities. This volume brings together critical and creative perspectives from 29 authors showcasing diverse coexisting heritage economies across six continents that offer new horizons for cultural inheritance. It also platforms perspectives from professional and grassroots community-based heritage practitioners which may be of interest to non-academic readers from not for profit and public sectors Readers of Alternative Economies of Heritage may include students and scholars of heritage and museum studies contemporary art urbanism environmental humanities archaeology anthropology digital humanities and Indigenous studies among other disciplines
