The Industrial Development Of Bengal 1900 1939 The Industrial Development Of Bengal 1900 1939:

The Industrial Development of Bengal, 1900-1939 A. Z. M. Iftikhar-ul-Awwal, 1982-12-01 Preface The present work examines the industrial experience of Bengal during the period 1900 to 1939 with particular emphasis on the role of the government as the main instrument for growth For this work available statistical material has been utilized for the sake of precision as well as to strengthen the qualitative evidence The book contains eight chapters While Chapter I builds up the case for industrial development Chapter II examines in detail the industrial policy of the Bengal government in the light of its own limitations as a subordinate authority to the Government of India and that of Whitehall Chapter III is an investigation of the labour market in Bengal with emphasis on the supply of labour to jute tea and coal industries in relation to wages and conditions of work In Chapter IV I have examined the rates of profitability and security of industrial investments In this chapter I have also examined the financial institutions of the time and their role in the industrial development of the province Chapter V points to some of the difficulties experienced by Indian entrepreneurs and in the above light looks at their contribution to the larger industrial establishments of Bengal The next two Chapters VI and VII examine the growth and development of the two biggest manufacturing industries of our period jute and handloom cotton weaving industries The concluding chapter is an estimate of the industrial progress made in the province during the period under review This book is a slightly revised version of my Ph D thesis submitted to the University of London in 1978 In the preparation of this thesis I have accumulated an enormous debt of gratitude to my Supervisor Dr K N Chaudhuri whose careful vigilance and timely intervention saved me from many factual errors and infelicities of style My thanks are also due to Mr I B Harrison who went through some of my preliminary chapters during the absence of Dr Chaudhuri in 1975 76 and made many useful observations I am also indebted to Dr Sirajul Islam of Dhaka University for helping me with some necessary corrections Here I take this opportunity also to express my deep gratitude to the UK Commonwealth Commission which offered me a scholarship for three years which enabled me to undertake this research work Needless to say without their financial help it would have been virtually impossible to pursue this course of studies I also wish to thank the University of Dhaka for granting me the necessary study leave There remains also a special group of people without whose co operation patience and tolerance this work would not have seen the light of day In this group belong the library staff of the British Library including the Newspaper Section at Colindale Senate House Library the library of the School of Oriental and African Studies and particularly the India Office Library and Records including their Newspaper Section at the Bush House I take this opportunity to thank Mr J Sims of the India Office Library and Records for being so helpful in tracking down apparently untraceable official documents I wish to thank the staff of the Bangladesh Secretariat Record Room and of the Secretariat Library Dhaka for extending me all possible facilities in carrying out my research work Finally I owe a special debt of gratitude to my wife Lilly whose support and constant encouragement over these years was invaluable in completing this work A Z M Iftikhar ul Awwal The Industrial Development of Bengal, 1900-1939 A. Z. M. Iftikhar-ul-Awwal, 2015 The present work examines The Industrial Development of Bengal, 1900-1939 A. Z. M. I. Awwal, 1979 Bengal Industries and the British Industrial Revolution (1757-1857) Indrajit Ray, 2011-08-09 This book seeks to enlighten two grey areas of industrial historiography Although Bengal industries were globally dominant on the eve of the industrial revolution no detailed literature is available about their later course of development A series of questions are involved in it Did those industries decline during the spells of British industrial revolution If yes what were their reasons If not the general curiosity is On which merits could those industries survive against the odds of the technological revolution A thorough discussion on these issues also clears up another area of dispute relating to the occurrence of deindustrialization in Bengal and the validity of two competing hypotheses on it viz i the mainstream hypothesis of market failures and ii the neo marxian hypothesis of imperialistic state interventions The Development of Modern Industries in Bengal Indrajit Ray, 2018-05-25 Bengal s traditional industries once celebrated worldwide largely decayed under the backwash effects of the British Industrial Revolution in the first half of the nineteenth century Although colonial ambivalence is often cited as an explanation this study also shows that a series of new industries emerged during this period The book reappraises the thesis of India s deindustrialisation and discusses the development status of the traditional industries in the early nineteenth century examines their technology employment opportunities and marketing and finally analyses the underlying reasons for their decay It offers a study of how traditional industries evolved into modern enterprises in a British colony and contributes to the broader discussion on the global history of industrialisation This book will be of interest to scholars of Indian economic history as well as those who seek to understand the widespread effects of industrialisation especially in a colonial context

Empire, Industry and Class Anthony Cox, 2013 Presenting a new approach towards the social history of working classes in the imperial context this book looks at the formation of working classes in Scotland and Bengal It analyses the trajectory of labour market formation labour supervision cultures of labour and class formation between two regional economies one in an imperial country and the other in a colonial one The book examines the everyday lives of the jute workers of the imperial nexus and the impact of the Dundee School of Scottish mechanics engineers and managers who ran the Calcutta jute industry It goes on to challenge existing theories of imperialism class formation and class struggle particularly those that underline the exceptional nature of the Indian experience of industrialization and demonstrates how and why Empire was able to provide an opportunity to test and perfect ways of controlling the lower classes of Dundee These historical debates have a continued relevance as we observe the impact of globalization and rapid industrialization in the so called developing world and the accompanying changes in many areas of the developed world marked by de industrialization The book is of use to scholars of imperial history labour history British history and South Asian history The Decline of British Industrial Hegemony Indrajit Ray, 2022-06-01 Through two World Wars and the Great Depression this book explores the turbulent history of colonial Indian industry in the period immediately prior to independence Focusing on five major industries in Bengal coal mining iron smelting jute manufacturing paper making and tea plantation the book looks at the impact of the war efforts on production employment and capital some industries experienced rapid growth due to additional investment others suffered due to the dislocation of markets Moreover by drawing lessons from the war economy especially the dearth of various essential commodities including war materials the colonial government took up various measures in the inter war period to promote India s domestic industries for the first time Additionally the book also argues that many of the expatriate firms in India became financially weak because of the Depression which paved the way for the Indianisation of corporate houses These elements were significant factors in the decline of British industrial hegemony in India and aided the de colonisation process which followed This book will be of interest to scholars of Indian economic history as well as those with wider interests in decolonisation industrial history and the first half of the twentieth century
