The International Television News Agencies The World From London:

International News Agencies Michael B. Palmer, 2020-01-02 International news agencies such as Reuters the Associated Press and Agence France Presse have long been unsung heroes of the media sphere From the mid nineteenth century in Britain the US France and to a lesser extent Germany a small number of agencies have fed their respective countries with international news reports They informed governments businesses media and indirectly the general public They helped define news Drawing on years of archival research and first hand experience of major news agencies this book provides a comprehensive history of the leading news agencies based in the UK France and the USA from the early 1800s to the present day It retraces their relations with one another with competitors and clients and the types of news information and data they collected edited and transmitted via a variety of means from carrier pigeons to artificial intelligence It examines the sometimes colourful biographies of agency newsmen and the rise and fall of news agencies as markets and methods shifted concluding by looking to the future of the organisations

News Agencies Stephen Jukes, 2022-02-23 This book explores the role of international news agencies and investigates whether they have been able to adapt to the contemporary media landscape following the disruption wrought by fake news social media and an increasingly polarised public discourse News Agencies addresses the key players in the industry beginning with the big three Reuters The Associated Press and Agence France Presse and then moving on to the newest global player Bloomberg It also explores the role of alternative providers of international news which are seeking to challenge the Western centric perspective of the agencies Drawing on interviews with senior editors Jukes investigates the challenges agencies face in terms of their editorial strategy and business models in today's social media context At a time when there is widespread distrust in the media and agencies are relying increasingly on user generated content as a source for news Jukes critically explores the role of these agencies in the debate over fake news and policies on objectivity impartiality and verification Shedding light on a sector of the news industry that has steadfastly remained out of the public spotlight this book will be of interest to students and academics in the fields of journalism and media studies

The International Television News Agencies Chris Paterson, 2011 For over half a century a small set of London based companies have either created or globally distributed most of the iconic television images of international events. These journalists play a leading role in shaping how we understand the world yet there has been little study of them and their practices. This book attempts to rectify this gap by providing the first comprehensive study of how television news agencies work and describing a system of news production which has shaped our shared visual history since the 1950s. Spanning over twenty years of data gathering, document analysis, video content analysis, news production, ethnography and interviews, the book discusses their crucial role as agents of globalization, how they manufacture our image of the world and their dangerous work providing images of conflict. The book is a tribute to this small and largely unknown tribe of journalists but is also a warning that the public might better understand the power and potential harm of the system in which they operate.

International Communication

Daya Kishan Thussu, 2018-12-27. The third edition of International Communication examines the profound changes that have taken place and are continuing to take place at an astonishing speed in international media and communication. Building on the success of previous editions, this book maps out the expansion of media and telecommunications corporations within the macro economic context of liberalisation, deregulation and privatisation. It then goes on to explore the impact of such growth on audiences in different cultural contexts and from regional, national and international perspectives. Each chapter contains engaging case studies which exemplify the main concepts and arguments.

Foreign Correspondents and International Newsgathering Colleen Murrell, 2014-11-27. This book reveals that fixers, local experts on whom foreign correspondents rely, play a much more significant role in international television newsgathering than has been documented or understood. Murrell explores the frames through which international reporting has traditionally been analysed and then shows that fixers, who have largely been dismissed by scholars as logistical aides, are in fact central to the day-to-day decision making that takes place on the road. Murrell looks at why and how fixers are selected and what their significance is to foreign correspondence. She asks if fixers help introduce a local perspective into the international news agenda or if fixers are simply 'People Like Us' (PLU). Also included are in-depth case studies of correspondents in Iraq and Indonesia.

News flows from Latin America to the British press Annalena Oeffner, 2005-12-15. Inhaltsangabe Zusammenfassung: Der Nachrichtenfluss von Entwicklungs- zu Industrieländern wird seit Jahrzehnten heftig debattiert. Auch den britischen Medien wird eine unausgewogene Auslandsberichterstattung vorgeworfen, die ein verzerrtes Bild der Realität zeigt. Diese Arbeit analysiert die Nachrichten über Lateinamerika in der britischen Presse und richtet dabei besondere Aufmerksamkeit auf die Autoren der Artikel und darauf, wer über Lateinamerika zu Wort kommt. In welchem Maße sich Einheimische in den britischen Zeitungen Gehör verschaffen können, wird dabei ebenso behandelt wie die Bedeutung von alternativen Quellen, z.B. andere Nachrichtenagenturen als die Großen Drei. Die Gründe für redaktionelle Entscheidungen wie z.B. der Einsatz von festen Korrespondenten anstelle von eingeflogenen Reportern oder die Wahl der Nachrichtenagenturen und journalistische Praktiken werden außerdem untersucht. Die folgenden Fragen sollen beantwortet werden: Welches Bild vermittelt die britische Presse von Lateinamerika?

Auf welchem Wege fließen die Nachrichten von Lateinamerika zur britischen Presse? Wer schreibt sie? Welche Informationsquellen werden genutzt? Welche vernachlässigt? Wird Einheimischen und alternativen Quellen Gehör verschafft? Auf der Grundlage einer Inhaltsanalyse von fünf britischen broadsheet Zeitungen und Interviews mit britischen Korrespondenten in Lateinamerika sowie Lateinamerikanern die in Großbritannien leben, weist diese Arbeit nach, dass viele der Bedenken, die vor 25 Jahren in den Debatten über globale Nachrichtenflüsse zum Ausdruck gebracht wurden, noch immer Relevanz haben. Obwohl sich viele Journalisten darum bemühen, dies zu ändern, tragen verschiedene Faktoren noch immer dazu bei, dass sie es meist nicht schaffen, die Öffentlichkeit mit ausgewogenen Berichten über Geschehnisse und Prozesse in Lateinamerika zu versorgen, die frei von Stereotypen sind und sich auf eine Vielzahl von Informationsquellen stützen. Hinweis: Diese Arbeit ist in englischer Sprache verfasst.

Abstract: For several decades, the news flows from developing to industrialized countries have been a major issue of debate. In Britain too, foreign reporting is said to be unbalanced, thus creating a distorted picture of reality. This study analyses the way in which news about Latin America is being covered by the British quality press, looking in particular at who writes the news and who is speaking about Latin America. It aims to

The Routledge Companion to Digital Journalism Studies Bob Franklin, Scott Eldridge II, 2016-11-18

The Routledge Companion to Digital Journalism Studies offers an unprecedented collection of essays addressing the key issues and debates shaping the field of Digital Journalism Studies today. Across the last decade, journalism has undergone many changes which have driven scholars to reassess its most fundamental questions and in the face of digital change to ask again: Who is a journalist and what is journalism? This companion explores a developing scholarly agenda committed to understanding digital journalism and brings together the work of key scholars seeking to address key theoretical concerns and solve unique methodological riddles. Compiled of 58 original essays from distinguished academics across the globe, this Companion draws together the work of those making sense of this fundamental reconceptualization of journalism and assesses its impacts on journalism's products, its practices, resources, and its relationship with audiences. It also outlines the challenge presented by studying digital journalism and more importantly offers a first set of answers. This collection is the very first of its kind to attempt to distinguish this emerging field as a unique area of academic inquiry. Through identifying its core questions and presenting its fundamental debates, this Companion sets the agenda for years to come in defining this new field of study as Digital Journalism Studies, making it an essential point of reference for students and scholars of journalism.

Media Power and Global Television News Saba Bebawi, 2016-01-05

The Middle East has been a particular focus of global crisis reporting. Yet international coverage of these conflicts has historically been presented through a Western perspective. The absence of Arab voices in the global public sphere has created a discursive gap between the Middle East and the rest of the world. The arrival of Al Jazeera English might therefore be regarded as an attempt to bridge this gap by broadcasting discourses from and about the Arab world. Using a framing analysis of selected news reports by Al Jazeera English before and after the so-called Arab Spring protests, this book considers Al Jazeera English's position in the global news environment and identifies the extent to which it addresses this gap between the Arab and global spheres
